Program: Foraging in Local Woods

Presenter: Margo Stich, local food and wine consultant

Margo Stich is a food and wine consultant who has written and spoken extensively on the pleasures of the palate.

She will talk about how to grow an appreciation of wine. Learn how to identify which qualities of wines (such as acidity, sweetness and tannins) you like and don't like, and use that as a starting point for exploring other wines with similar characteristics. And if you have thought about growing your own grapes, we will touch on ways of doing that, too.
